FIGURE 9.7
A noninsulated uniform rod positioned between two walls of constant but different temperature. The finite-difference representation employs four interior nodes.